

Egypt

a place of hardships

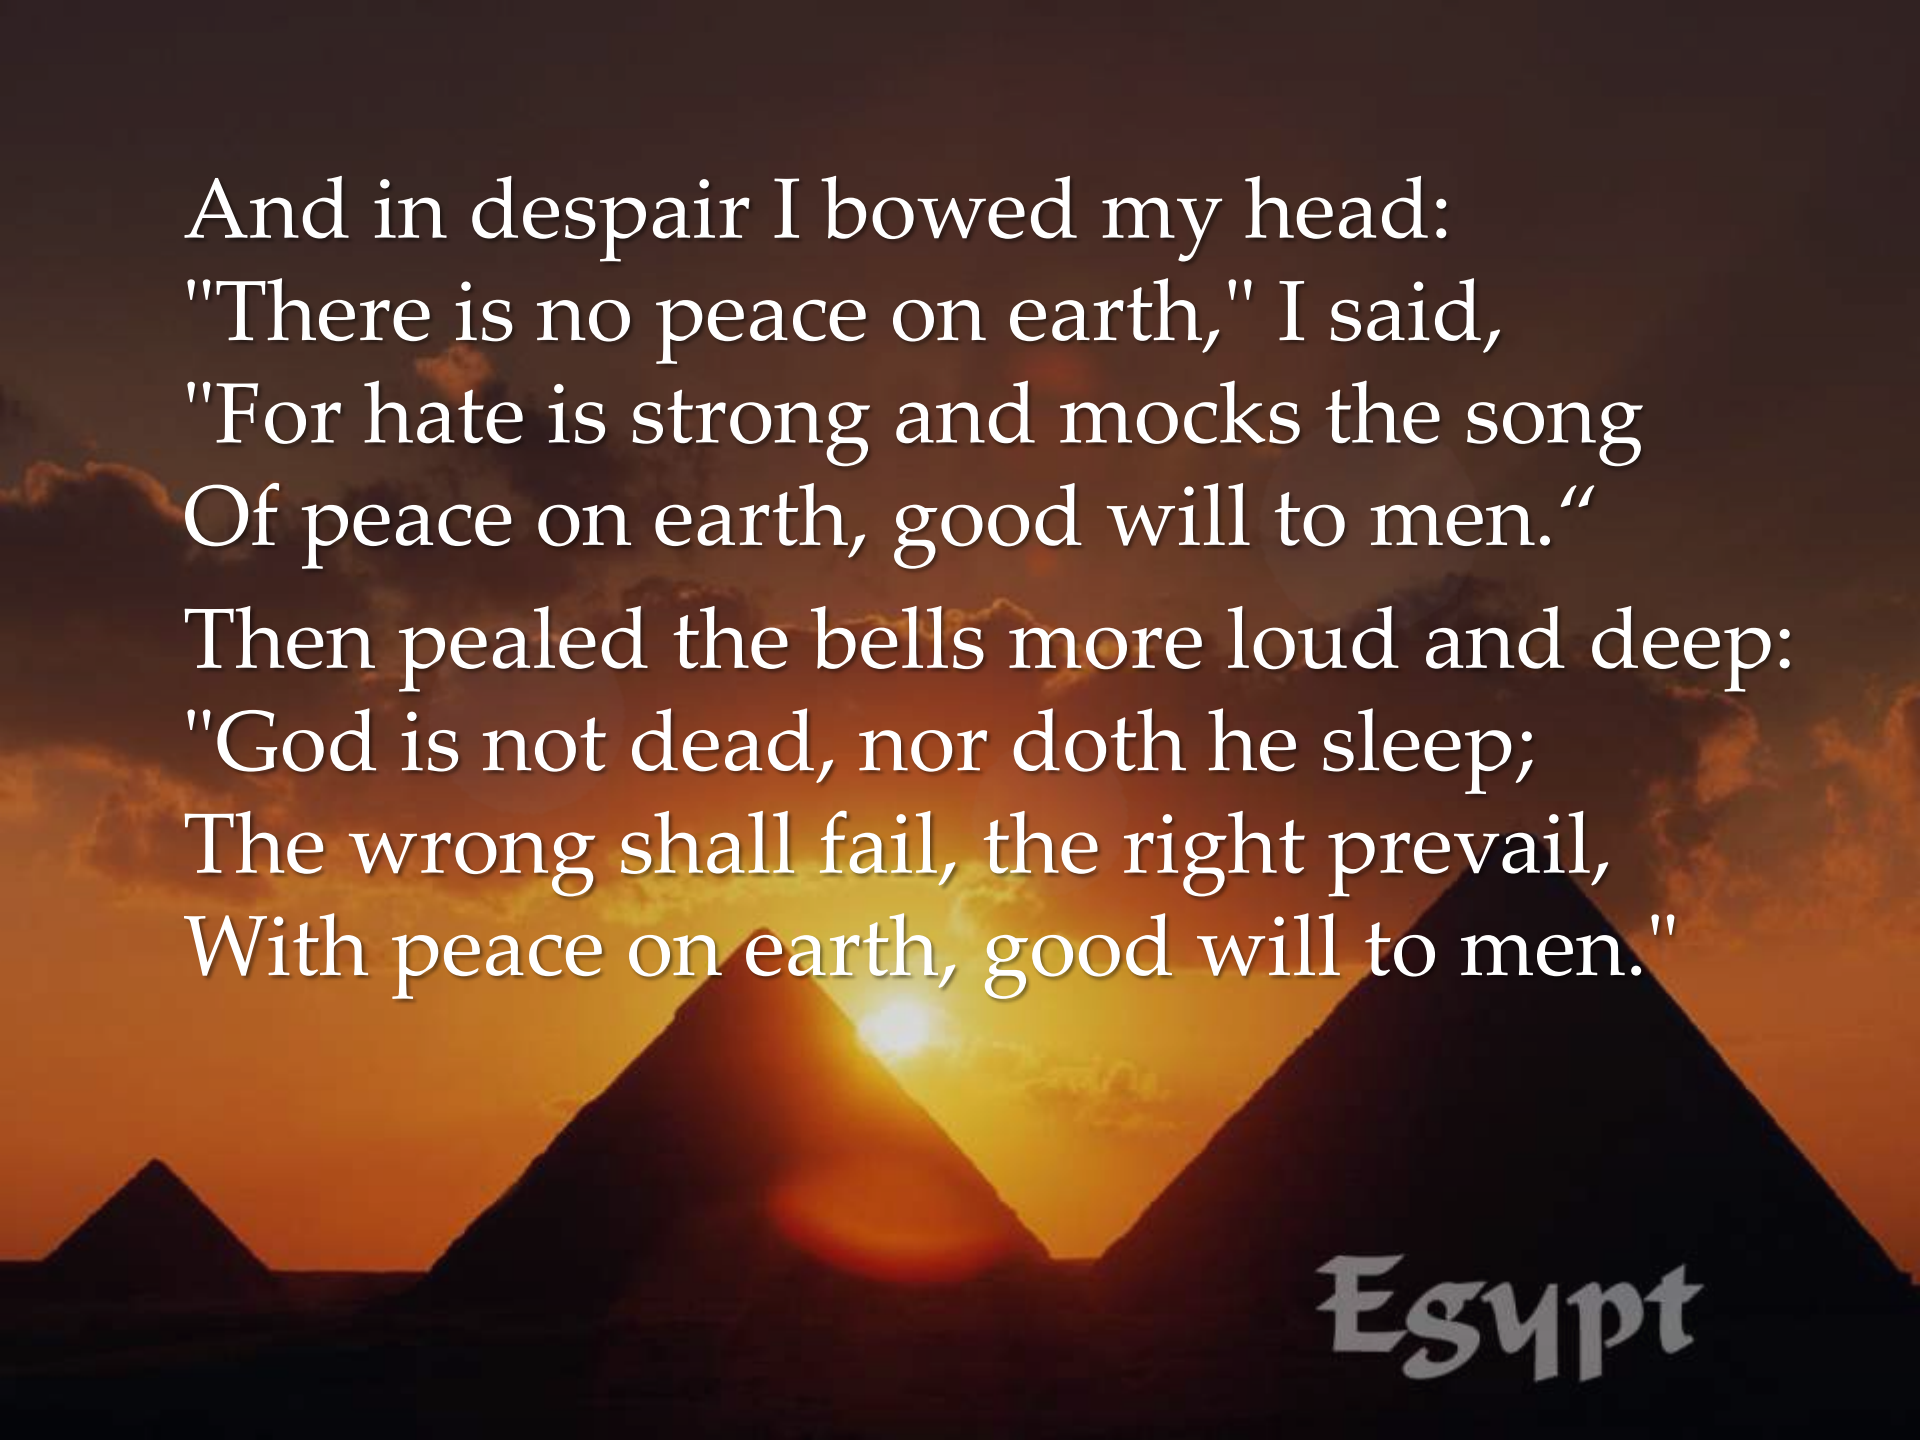

Matthew 2:13-18

I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day
Their old familiar carols play,
And wild and sweet the words repeat
Of peace on earth, good will to men.
I thought how, as the day had come,
The belfries of all Christendom
Had rolled along the unbroken song
Of peace on earth, good will to men.

Egypt

And in despair I bowed my head:
"There is no peace on earth," I said,
"For hate is strong and mocks the song
Of peace on earth, good will to men."
Then pealed the bells more loud and deep:
"God is not dead, nor doth he sleep;
The wrong shall fail, the right prevail,
With peace on earth, good will to men."

Egypt-the land of Pharaohs

The background of the slide features a dramatic sunset over the Great Pyramids of Giza. The sun is positioned centrally behind the middle pyramid, creating a bright glow and casting long, dark shadows. The sky is filled with dark, silhouetted clouds, and the overall color palette is dominated by warm oranges, yellows, and deep reds. The pyramids are rendered as dark, solid shapes against the bright sky.

Egypt in the Christmas story

∅ Matthew 2:13-18, the forgotten portion of the birth of Jesus Christ.

Egypt

Egypt represents for us...

- ∅ An awareness that Christmas is difficult for many people.
- ∅ An awareness of missions at a time when we focus on ourselves.
- ∅ An awareness of God's provision for your life.
